The Big Wind-Down!!

Well it seems like it was only last week that first term was beginning, and here we are heading into the home straight. Somehow I think that, for many of you, winding down won't be an option until the guy in the red pyjamas hits town.

Our newsletter this term is jam-packed with many interesting tidbits;

From babies interrupting journalist's sleep to policeman dismembering a baby to the lowdown on baby cleaning and pesky batteries through to contacting fellow educators via our free "babymail" service, it's all here, so read on.

Probably the biggest news we have to share with you is the introduction of our Baby Trade-In Program.

We have often been asked whether we will accept a trade-in of superseded Baby Think It Over Babies. Virtual Parenting and RealityWorks USA are now combining to offer you what I think is an opportunity that shouldn't be missed.

Give us a call on 1800 35 35 99 today and we will fill you in on the details.

It's simple all you have to do is send an e-mail to babymail@virtualparenting.com.au In the subject line type subscribe then click on the send button. Within a day you will receive an e-mail that will confirm your subscription.

Once you've subscribed, all you have to do is send an e-mail to babymail@virtualparenting.com.au and your message will be automatically sent to everybody on the list.

This is an excellent free forum to share ideas, experiences and questions with others who are using the program in Australia and New Zealand.

If you have any questions please call Steve on 1800 35 35 99.

Newsletters and email

We would love to be able to send out our newsletters to you via e-mail.

It works out a lot cheaper than posting or faxing them and the end result will be a lot clearer for you than a fax would. So if you have an e-mail address could you please fill out the form below and fax it to us along with your school's name and e-mail address. Or alternatively simply send an e-mail to steve.pratt@virtuaparenting.com.au

TV and Media

Congratulations to the Osborne Division of General Practice for the excellent story that appeared on "How the Quest was Won" on the ABC last month. Two reporters played "family" looking after 2 of Osborne's Baby Think It Over Infant Simulators. It was quite interesting to see the dynamics that came into the relationship when they had to deal with crying babies and limited sleep.

Well-done Kelly Phuah and the team from ODGP.

Pull Your Self Together!!

A student in Townsville was issued a baby as part of the Baby Think It Over Program being run at his school. Unfortunately he decided not to turn up for school and ended up in a stolen car on Magnetic Island that was pulled over by the local constable. Being a good parent he had his baby with him in the stolen car. The constable removed the baby from the father's care and proceeded to pull its arms and legs off looking for drugs that might have been stashed in the baby. Fortunately both father and child were drug-free.

IMPORTANT message about Baby Cleaning!!!

The year is rapidly coming to a close and soon many of your thoughts will be turned to having your baby cleaned over the Christmas break.

Generally what happens is we get inundated with grubby babies that need to be cleaned by the time school resumes.

This year our cleaning service will not be available during January 2006

We now require your babies to be booked in for cleaning before they arrive.

We will only be taking a limited number so first in the best dressed.

The other option is to clean them yourself and we are more than happy to send you the cleaning procedure that we use to clean your babies.

Or visit our web site on <http://www.virtualparenting.com.au/> click on the NEED HELP - Teachers section in the bottom right-hand corner then click on the link to the Baby Cleaning Procedure.
